STATE FACILITIES AND PROGRAMS

There are 9 state correctional facilities operating in Louisiana with an operational capacity of 19,004 beds. The Department operates B.B. Rayburn Correctional Center, David Wade Correctional Center, Dixon Correctional Institute, Elayn Hunt Correction Center, Louisiana Corrections Center for Women, Louisiana State Penitentiary, Raymond Laborde Correctional Center (formerly Avoyelles Correction Center). Allen Correctional Center is operated by GEO Group and Winn Correctional Center is operated by LaSalle Management.

REENTRY INITIATIVES

The Department, in collaboration with Sheriffs, opened 9 Regional Reentry Programs to offer the Department's Standardized Pre-Release Curriculum 2010 and Certified Treatment and Rehabilitative Programs (CTRP), which allow offenders to learn basic work readiness preparation, money management, substance abuse education and treatment, parenting, anger management and other life skills prior to discharge.

Regional Reentry Programs

The Department has established 9 Regional Reentry Programs across the state since 2010. These regional reentry programs operate in conjunction with local sheriffs and are designed to reach those offenders who are within one year of release (or Transitional Work Program assignment), and returning to a specific region. This regionalized approach enhances the program's ability to engage community supports, such as treatment providers, educational opportunities, as well as family and faith-based programs (see Table 5: Regional Reentry Programming). Each Regional Reentry Program provides participants with the Standardized Pre-Release Curriculum 2010, two forms of identification, residence and employment plans, as well as connection to needed post-release resources in the community.

- Minimum of 600 participant completions annually per site
- Program duration varies by site from 30 days to 90 days

Standardized Pre-Release Curriculum 2010

LA R.S 15:827.1 mandates 100 hours of pre-release training prior to being released. Participation is mandatory by law for all offenders releasing from prison. Offenders begin participating in a 100-hour release preparation program at least 6 months prior to their earliest release date, but may begin as early as 1 year prior to the work release eligibility date. Generally, this program is mandatory for all offenders without serious medical or mental health concerns assigned medium custody or lower. The program covers employment skills, job placement assistance, money management skills, values clarification, problem solving and decision making, personal development, counseling on individual community reentry concerns, reentry support services, anger management, and victim awareness and restitution. Release preparation also includes assisting offenders with obtaining valid identification documents, discharge planning, referrals or assistance with transitional housing, medical or mental health agencies and programs, processing applications for SSI benefits.

- In 2016, 7080 offenders completed the Standardized Pre-Release Curriculum – 3,429 in state institutions and 3,561 in parish facilities.

Certified Treatment and Rehabilitation Programs

Over the last decade, the Department organized and standardized programs and services in state prisons addressing criminogenic needs and to better prepare offenders for a successful reintegration into their communities. In 2010, as some local jails began to offer these programs to offenders, the Department instituted the “Certified Treatment and Rehabilitative Program” certification process to insure the programs implemented in state prisons and local jails were evidence based and standardized. Offenders are provided the opportunity to participate in a variety of evidence-based programming designed to address the criminogenic risks and needs identified in their Reentry Accountability Plan (ReAP). To provide an incentive for offenders to take advantage of these programs, a specified amount of credit toward early release is earned by eligible offenders for completing each program up to a maximum of 360 days of credit pursuant to LA R.S. 15:828(B). Successful participation and completion in these programs enable the (eligible) offender to release to probation/parole supervision earlier (and better prepared) and at a savings to the Louisiana taxpayer. The Department maintains a comprehensive listing of all available Certified Treatment and Rehabilitative Programs (CTRP) in a Catalog of Rehabilitative Services. For a complete list of CTRP courses offered, see Table 3: Certified Treatment and Rehabilitative Programs by State Facilities and Table 6: Certified Treatment and Rehabilitative Programs by Parish Facilities. The following is a brief list of the most common CTRP courses offered.

Anger Management

This program is designed to assist offenders in recognizing, addressing and appropriately handling their anger by providing them with skills necessary for behavior modification and anger management. Offenders learn how to identify causes of anger, body changes caused by anger, trigger signs, different styles of anger and healthy ways to express anger.

Financial Management/Solutions to Poverty

A 24-week intensive financial money management and solutions to poverty program that includes 10 modules of the FDIC Money Smart instructor-led curriculum and 14 weeks of “Getting Ahead In A Just Getting By World”. Money Smart includes basic financial literacy skills building in addition to how to improve your credit, getting loans and purchasing a home. The Getting Ahead curriculum is a 14-module evidence-based program that includes critical thinking skills topics such as Theory of Change, The Rich/Poor Gap and How it Works, Hidden Rules of Class, Identifying Available Resources and Building Resources, Stages of Change, Creating Mental Models for Your Personal Path out of Poverty and a self-assessment to formulate a personal plan for a stable, prosperous life upon release.

Parenting

Offenders are provided a variety of information covering the following parenting issues: the responsibilities of parenthood, importance of a male/female role model, listening and communication skills, the importance of positive feedback, and appropriate discipline. Offenders are taught appropriate expectations of children by learning about the stages of child development, alternative behavior modification techniques without utilizing corporal punishment and how to avoid power struggles.

Risk Factor Management

This two phase group focuses on the risks offenders are likely to face after release that may lead to re-offending, understanding the definitions of the risks factors and then identifying them in everyday life.

Thinking for a Change

Thinking for a Change 4.0 (T4C) is an integrated cognitive behavioral change program that incorporates research from cognitive restructuring theory, social skills development, and the learning and use of problem solving skills. T4C is comprised of 25 lessons that build upon each other. The program is designed to be provided to justice-involved adults and youth, males and females. It is intended for groups of eight to twelve and should be delivered only by trained facilitators. Due to its integrated structure, T4C is a closed group, meaning members need to start at the beginning of a cycle, and may not join the group mid-stream (lesson five is a logical cut-off point for new group members).

Education

Approximately 81% of incarcerated offenders lack a high school diploma or equivalent at intake, therefore making educational programming available to incarcerated offenders, as well as to offenders released to community supervision or placed on probation is a critical part of reentry. R.S. 15:828(B) requires the Secretary of Corrections to prescribe rules and regulations in the facilities and institutions under the Department's jurisdiction to encourage voluntary participation by offenders in literacy, academic (Adult Basic Education and High School Equivalency preparation), and vocational technical programs. The Department provides educational opportunities in the areas of:

- Adult Basic Education/General Education Development (ABE/GED)
- High School Equivalency Preparation (HSE-Prep)
- Developmental Studies
- Literacy
- Special Education

The Department also provides special education programming through the Louisiana Department of Education Special School District to offenders who qualify by age criteria and have behavioral, emotional, and/or learning disorders as diagnosed by a Special School District diagnostician. These classes are offered in conjunction with other literacy, ABE, and High School Equivalency preparation programs according to the student's academic achievement level.

Job Skills and Employment Readiness

A significant percentage of offenders who enter prison are not employed at the time the crime was committed. The utilization of vocational-technical programs by offenders will greatly improve their marketable skills.

- At the Louisiana State Penitentiary at Angola, highly-skilled offender mentors are utilized to enhance the training development in automotive and construction training classes to assist non-skilled offenders in attaining an Industry-Based Certification (IBC) in their chosen field of training. Certifications through the National Center for Construction Education and Research (NCCER) and the Automotive Service Excellence (ASE) are offered to offenders as they complete the training program to assist the offender in attaining employment after release.
- The Department partners with the New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary (NOBTS) to offer offenders faith-based course work leading to an Associate or Bachelor's Degree in Theology. This program has proven to enhance the social and quality-of-life skills needed for this population.

- The Louisiana Transition Center for Women (Madison Parish) and the Lafayette Parish Sheriff's Detention Centers have initiated a partnership with Ashland University, an accredited 4-year college in Ashland, Ohio. Through a tablet-based (kiosk connected) program and on-site Ashland staff, offenders are able to enroll in an Associate Degree Program in General Studies. This pilot concept started in January, 2016, and is expected to be expanded in September, 2016, to other state and local correctional facilities.
- Though a partnership with the Louisiana Community & Technical College System (LCTCS), offenders are able to earn college credit in vocational-technical training fields. Vocational-technical education programs focus on the development of entry-level employment skills for offenders through classroom instruction and hands-on training. The Department offers the following vocational programs at various institutions:
 - Automotive Technology
 - Building Technology
 - Carpentry
 - Collision Repair
 - Computer Specialist Applications/Operations
 - Culinary Arts
 - Electrician/Electromechanical Technology
 - General Construction
 - General Studies Associate Degree
 - Heating/Air-Conditioning/Refrigeration
 - Horticulture
 - Job Life Skills
 - Masonry
 - Outdoor Power Equipment Technology
 - Office Systems Technology
 - Offset Printing Operations
 - Plumbing
 - Upholstery
 - Welding

Substance Abuse Treatment

Approximately 78% percent of offenders have substance abuse issues that contribute to their criminality. The Department continues to develop collaborative relationships between outside treatment and prevention education, between outside treatment service providers and jail-based treatment programs, to assist offenders in developing a recovery base to enhance their safe and successful transition into society. Offenders are provided the opportunities to participate in a variety of substance abuse education programs including Alcoholics Anonymous, Narcotics Anonymous, Living in Balance, and Celebrate Recovery Inside.

Faith-Based and Values Development programming

The Department provides faith-based and character-based programs to offset criminogenic thinking. Faith-based programs can help offenders prepare for a successful reentry by establishing a spiritual foundation from which he/she can make sound, moral decisions. Offenders assessed as high or moderate risk require structured, cognitive-behavioral programs (such as Moral Recognition Therapy and Thinking for Change) to provide them with pro-social decision-making skills.

Corrections chaplains work with hundreds of volunteers that form the core of religious programming to support changes toward a pro-social identity. Trinity Broadcasting Network (TBN) offers positive, life-affirming television programming around the clock free of charge to all state correctional facilities. The Department has three Faith and character-based dormitory (FCBD) programs, aimed at maximizing the power of personal faith, reinforcement of pro-social decision making, and positive role models through mentoring.

Louisiana State Penitentiary became a model from other prisons systems in the country when it partnered with the New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary (NOBTS) to open a Bible College on the grounds of the maximum security prison. The seminary, established in 1995, offers two college-level degree programs: a two-year associate degree in Pastoral Ministries and a four-year bachelor's degree in Theology. As many of Angola's offenders are serving life sentences, the Department sees their role in the reentry process as mentors – helping other offenders transition back into the community. Some offenders who have earned degrees serve as missionaries and chaplains at other prisons to strengthen religious and moral programming.

PARISH FACILITIES AND PROGRAMS

In 2016, local-level (parish) jails housed approximately 50% of state offenders. Please see Table 5: Occupancy by Parish Facilities. While state correctional facilities have historically offered a variety of educational, vocational and other programming to offenders, offenders housed in local facilities rarely received the same level of programming. This is problematic for successful reentry, as state offenders housed in local jails account for approximately 75% of releases each year.

Local Jail Transition Specialists

In 2014, the Department expanded reentry programs and services in local jails by assigning 20 Corrections Transition Specialists to those local jails housing the largest number of state offenders. These specialists conduct risk/needs assessments; provide CTRP instruction in programs such as Thinking for Change, Anger Management, and Parenting; and assist in transitioning offenders to the Regional Reentry Programs appropriate for them. These specialists create a more structured and evidence-based approach to assessing and addressing the needs of the state offender population housed in local jails.

Local Jail Literacy and Adult Basic Education Programs

Thirteen local jails and detention centers currently report adult education students to the Department. These local jails are in turn provided an instructor and resources to provide adult basic education to their eligible offender population. A number of other local jails partner with their local school boards to provide adult basic education opportunities for their offender population.

Transitional Work Programs

There are currently 28 transitional work programs (TWP) (9 contract and 19 non-contract) operating in the state of Louisiana with a total capacity of 7,314. Eligible offenders may enter a TWP from 6 months to 4 years prior to release from incarceration, depending on the offense of conviction. Generally, sex offenders are precluded from participation in the transitional work program. Offenders that are approved for the program are required to work at an approved job and when not working they must return to the structured environment of the assigned facility. Probation and Parole officers are assigned monitoring responsibilities for contract TWP's. This may include conducting random drug screens and random shakedowns of the facility. Additionally, the Probation and Parole officer is part of the Auditing Teams that conduct annual audit of TWP facilities. The goal of TWP's is to assist offenders with making the transition from prison back into the work force. Approximately 10 to 20 percent of offenders remain with their employer upon release. The TWP is also utilized as an alternative for technical parole violators, in lieu of returning them to prison.

COMMUNITY CORRECTIONS

Division of Probation and Parole/Adult

Probation and Parole has 21 offices located throughout the state. The offices range in size from 5 officers to 49 officers (New Orleans District). There are 511 officers allocated to supervise more than 72,000 probationers and parolees in the community, 99% which have felony convictions. Approximately 2,200 of the 72,000 offenders are convicted sex offenders, many of whom require specialized supervision, treatment and compliance with registration and notification laws. Probation and Parole officers also conduct major investigations for the Courts (Pre-Sentences), Parole Board (Pre-Paroles) and Pardon Board (Clemencies) (more than 2,700 in fiscal year 2015-2016). Probation and Parole monitors work release and cooperative endeavor agreement compliance on twelve work release facilities with a capacity of 1,221 inmates. Probation and Parole Officers also arrest offenders for violation of the conditions of supervision (approximately 3,200 in FY 2015-2016), and approximately 525 violators were returned from out of state. More than 26 million dollars in fees, victim restitution, fines, court costs and other assessments were collected by this agency in the last fiscal year. The average caseload is 141 offenders per officer. Officers who supervise specialist cases (i.e. sex offenders) carry a reduced caseload, which means other officers may carry 160 or more cases. The Division of Probation and Parole/Adult is accredited by the American Correctional Association, earning 99% compliance with standards on the last audit in 2015.

Alternative to Incarceration

Data of Louisiana's offender population shows that offenders are most at risk of returning to prison within the first two years of release, often because they lack programs and services to achieve stability in their communities. As a result, the Department has established alternatives to incarceration. Probation and Parole officers refer probationers and parolees to a variety of programs in the community designed to address the issues they commonly face, including substance abuse treatment, mental health treatment, sex offender treatment, anger management, job training/skills programs and driving schools.

Alternative and Treatment Programs

Concordia Parish Treatment Program (RSAT)

26362 Highway 15, Ferriday, Louisiana 71334

Komonicca Cook-Collins, LAC

Capacity: 40 beds

➤ This program is 150 days and utilizes a cognitive therapeutic technique.

Don Francois Alternative Center – Concordia

26356 Highway 15, Ferriday, La. 71334

Robin Coleman, CAC

Capacity: 200 beds

- The Don Francois Alternative Center offers a 90-day program that addresses the rehabilitation needs of offenders, including but not limited to, substance abuse treatment and anger management programs. Offenders are returned to supervision upon completion of the program

Louisiana Transition Center for Women

Madison Parish Sheriff

1005 Green Street, Tallulah, La. 71282

April Baur, Director

Capacity: 36 beds per track

- The Louisiana Transition Center (local level facility in Madison Parish that accommodates DOC female offenders) offer short-term substance abuse treatment (Helping Women in Recover) on probation/parole supervision. This program offers a 12 week or 9 week track.

Blue Walters Substance Abuse Treatment Program - North

Richwood Detention Center

180 Pine Bayou Circle, Monroe, La. 71202

Dr. Robert Hanser, Director

Capacity: 200 beds

- This is a comprehensive 12 week program designed to rehabilitate eligible offenders nearing release with a history of alcohol and drug abuse. The program goal is to provide substance abuse treatment and prevention education, to develop a collaborative relationship between outside treatment service providers and jail-based treatment program, to assist offenders in developing a recovery base, as well as, a safe and successful transition into society. The transition occurs through a combination of halfway house placement, after-care and/or work release.

Intensive Incarceration

The Intensive Incarceration Program is an alternative form of incarceration in which offenders are sentenced without diminution of sentence to not more than twelve months by a Drug Court or sentencing court during a probation revocation hearing. Potential participants are screened and assessed at the Steve Hoyle Intensive Substance Abuse Program (males) or Adult Reception and Diagnostic Center at Louisiana Correctional Institute for Women (females).

Dr. Susan Tucker, Assistant Warden

Capacity: 600 beds

- The Steve Hoyle Rehabilitation Program provides a therapeutic community approach to house, treat, educate and support individuals with long-term, significant substance abuse issues. Both probationers and parolees can be referred. The program uses criminogenic needs assessments to match offenders to the best treatment available; provides evidence based treatment for substance abuse and subsequent problems with 3 tracts (3, 6 & 9) that are 12 months in length. The program requires each participant to be enrolled for a minimum of 3-12 months. The curriculum revolves around Intensive Substance Abuse Treatment (cognitive-behavioral), Victim Awareness, Risk Management, Relapse Prevention Anger Management, Parenting, and Reentry Programming. Services are funded and staffed by the federal Residential Substance Abuse Treatment Grant (RSAT), which is distributed by the Louisiana Commission on Law Enforcement, and state general funds.

Louisiana Correctional Institute for Women (LCIW) (Females)

7205 LA-74, St. Gabriel, LA 70776

Frederick Boutte, Warden

Capacity: N/A

- Louisiana Correctional Institute for Women (state facility) offers short-term substance abuse treatment and reentry programs for females on probation/parole supervision.

Day Reporting Centers

In 2014-15, the Division of Probation and Parole opened 5 day reporting centers (DRC) for a total of 8 located throughout Louisiana: Monroe, Lake Charles, Alexandria, Baton Rouge, Covington, Lafayette, New Orleans, and Shreveport. The purpose of the DRCs is to serve local area offenders by providing life skills, job training and various treatments in order to reduce recidivism. Programming is based on a 90 day cycle with 40-50 participants per cycle (160-200 per year). The program includes random drug and alcohol testing, and requires offenders to be alcohol and drug free in order to progress through the various phases of the program.

Participants will be provided case management services in areas that include but are not limited to educational, vocational, and/or employment training based on their assessment. Aftercare services includes pro-social family and community support, relapse prevention activities, pro-social cognitive decision-making, education and employment assistance and continued alcohol and drug testing.

- Due to funding constraints, 4 facilities were shuttered in 2016: Monroe, Alexandria, Lake Charles and Lafayette. Currently, local area offenders are served by the Orleans Day Reporting Center (operated by Orleans Parish Sheriff's Office), the Baton Rouge Day Reporting Center, the Bossier City Day Reporting Center and the Covington Day Reporting Center (all operated by Geo Group).

Drug Courts

Drug courts are community intervention programs that evolved out of the need to address the common combination of criminal behavior and substance abuse. They involve supervised treatment, education, work programs and monitoring. Drug courts are planned, implemented and supported by the judiciary, prosecutors, defense attorneys, treatment providers, law enforcement officers and probation and parole officers. While there are drug courts operating in the majority of the Probation and Parole Districts throughout the state, all do not operate in the same fashion. Some have involvement from state probation and parole officers while others have their own probation officers with little to no involvement or interaction with state probation and parole officers.

LOUISIANA PRISONER REENTRY INITIATIVE (LA-PRI)

The Department was awarded the Justice Reinvestment Initiative – Maximizing State Reforms grant from the Department of Justice in 2014 to create and implement an automated risk, need, responsivity tool to inform structured decision making and identify criminogenic needs for all criminal justice stakeholders. The Department partnered with Louisiana State University, School of Sociology to create and validate the tool, which was named the TIGER (Targeted Interventions Gaining Enhanced Reentry). The next phase of the project will involve automation of the tool, including integrating it with the offender case plan being developed in the Louisiana Prisoner Reentry Initiative.

The Department partnered with the Michigan Council on Crime and Delinquency (MCCD) to engage in strategic planning and revision of the reentry case planning continuum known as the Louisiana Prisoner Reentry Initiative (LA-PRI). MCCD has worked with several states to improve objective assessment and decision making, as well as case planning and systems integration. An Implementation Steering Team (IST) involving staff from all disciplines and sections of the Department was brought together to work on the creation of a System Blueprint and Logic Model, as well as a Strategic Planning Framework for Prisoner Reentry. The outcome of the work on the LA-PRI will be a unified Reentry Accountability Plan (ReAP) which will not only guide the offender and Departmental staff, but also other stakeholders such as courts, the Parole Board, local jails, and community resource providers. This case plan will now improve pre- and post-release programming and intervention planning, as well as better inform structured decisions of the courts and Parole Board. The LA-PRI IST continues to meet on a quarterly basis to work on the ReAP and insure that it not only fully utilizes the TIGER, but informs the development and automation of the TIGER.
