Gulp of cocaine kills N.O. man

A New Orleans man died last week of ingesting cocaine that he swallowed just before police arrested him, the Orleans Parish coroner's office said Sunday.

Joseph Riley, 30, address unknown, was arrested Tuesday night and booked with battery and resisting an officer, said John Gagliano, chief coroner's investigator. Riley complained of stomach pains at Central Lockup. He told deputies that he swallowed crack cocaine when police approached him, Gagliano said.

Riley was admitted to Charity Hospital Tuesday at 11:40 p.m. and died an hour and 10 minutes later.

An autopsy Friday found cocaine in Riley's body, according to information released by Coroner Frank Minyard.

2 are wounded in fight for gun

Two New Orleans men were shot and wounded, one critically, after one robbed the other Sunday in the St. Bernard housing project, police said.

Craig Williams, 20, 221 Warrington Drive, was in critical condition in Charity Hospital.

Ronald James, 21, 622 N. Lopez St., was taken to United Medical Center. His injury was not serious, police said.

A witness said Williams pulled a gun on James and a man who was with him about 4:35 p.m. in the 3800 block of Gibson Street, police said. Williams reportedly demanded money, and James threw down $50, police said.

A struggle began. The gun, believed to be a .357-caliber magnum, discharged several times, wounding James in the thigh and Williams in the back and thigh, police spokeswoman Carmine Menchel said.

Williams and James were found lying on the ground, but the gun was gone. Police did not identify James' companion.

Orleans inmate dies after fight

An inmate at Orleans Parish Prison died Friday after another inmate reportedly hit him with a brick.

The coroner's office is investigating the death of Dennis Olidge, 32, 3924 Jumonville St., as a homicide pending more information from the Criminal Sheriff's Office.

Chief coroner's investigator John Gagliano said a prison official told him that Olidge had a fight with another inmate Thursday afternoon. The other inmate wrapped a brick in a sheet and hit Olidge in the head, the official told Gagliano.

Olidge underwent surgery in Charity Hospital.

An autopsy Saturday showed that Olidge died of skull fractures, according to results released by Coroner Frank Minyard.
