PERON LIKENED TO HUEY LONG

Third of Populace Still for Him, Says Troy

Juan Peron is a power for the Argentinian government to contend with in the minds and hearts of the populace much as Huey Long was in Louisiana.

John F. Troy, commercial attache in Argentina with the Foreign Service of the United States, told New Orleans businessmen Thursday that it is extremely difficult to explain to the man in the street that he's bad off now because Peron spent so much when he was in power.

"One-third of the populace is still strong for Peron," Troy said to the Members' Council of the Chamber of Commerce, "although it has been nine years since he was in power."

Each government since Peron has tried to work out a way to bring this group back into the body politic, he added.

LUNCHEON SPEAKER

Troy, on leave since Christmas, spoke at a luncheon meeting at the Roosevelt Hotel.

The commercial attache said domestic inflation and lack of foreign exchange for international trade are Argentina's two most pressing problems.

Although practically the entire industrial sector has just finished one of its best years, the boom is substantially inflation generated, Troy said, and industrial activity may be dampened in the next year.

The cost of living in Argentina went up 23 per cent last year, and the government will not be able to close the gap for at least another year, he stated.

IMPORT CURBS

Since some $500 million in notes will come due in 1965 for Argentina, the government is putting out restrictions on machinery imports. "This fell heavily on the United States," Troy said.

He believes restrictions on imports may tend to dampen industrial activity, raw materials will be scarce and costs may go up.

Troy urged New Orleans businessmen to give more thought to Argentina as a source of products. "There are a lot of bargains to be found in metal workings, cables, wine and cheese. It is to our best interest to take advantage of them."

Americans have some $1.2 billion invested in Argentina.

CHARGE ABSURD, SAYS HEYD ASST.

'Sure Indication Election Coming'—Falkenstein

A spokesman for Criminal Sheriff Louis A. Heyd Sr. replied Thursday to a demand that he and his staff resign because of the death of a Negro inmate in Parish Prison last Saturday.

"This charge is a sure indication that we have an election coming," said A. J. Falkenstein, Heyd's administrative assistant.

The criticism came from Earl J. Amedee, president of the New Orleans Voter Association.

He referred to the death of Marshall Scott Jr., Negro, 43, of pneumonia, two days after Scott had been put in solitary confinement for discipline.

A deputy sheriff has been dismissed for putting Scott in the cell while ill, and two watch captains were suspended and demoted for their responsibility in the matter.

Falkenstein stated:

"I have been informed of Mr. Amedee's charge that we are malfesant at the sheriff's office because we permit brutality toward inmates.

"This charge is a sure indication that we have an election coming. Mr. Amedee, I understand, is interested in running for the office of criminal sheriff in the coming election.

"His statement and charge is rediculous, false, absurd, untrue and contrary to all the facts concerning treatment of inmates at Orleans Parish Prison.

"It seems that he bases his statement on the recent firing of one deputy and the suspension of two others. If anything, this action by the sheriff should indicate that any type of irregularly or unnecessary disciplining of an inmate is not and will not be tolerated.

"Furthermore, when inmates are given schooling, medical care, counselling and aid to obtain employment, I can assure Mr. Amedee that the sheriff's office is interested in the welfare of the inmate and not in brutalizing him."

FAMILY COMMUNION IS PLANNED SUNDAY

The St. Mary Magdalen Council No. 5301, Knights of Columbus, will hold a family communion at the 7:15 a. m. Mass Sunday at St. Mary Magdalen Church, Metairie.

The members and their families will be joined by the Columbian Squires of the John F. Kennedy Circle at the Mass. A breakfast will follow at the school cafeteria.

FAMILY SERVICE CUTS OUT WAITS

Counseling Now Available Early, Report

The Family Service Society of New Orleans eliminated its waiting list for long-term counseling service in 1964, according to the annual report of the executive director for 1964.

A United Fund Agency, the Family Service has been plagued for nearly five years by a mounting waiting list. By the end of July, 1964, the length of the waiting period had risen rapidly to 14 months.

Currently, however, initial appointments are being given within the week, and when long-term counseling is recommended, it is available without a long wait—in most instances, without any wait at all.

CASEWORKER ADDED

Crucial to the success of the agency's efforts to cut down the waiting period was the approval by the United Fund of an additional caseworker position. The position was filled in June.

A total of 2,176 different families were served by the Family Service Society in 1964, a slight increase over 2,156 in 1963. Actual time devoted to casework interviews was increased by 13.3 per cent.

The percentage ratio of families served to the population were Orleans Parish, 26 per cent, East Jefferson Parish, 26 per cent; St. Bernard Parish, 18 per cent; West Jefferson Parish, 10 per cent, and St. Tammany Parish, 1 per cent.

FEE RECEIPTS UP

Fees received from families increased in 1964. Service is avilable to anyone regardless of his ability to pay a fee. Fees in 1964 totaled $8,844, compared to $7,922.50 in 1963.

Catholic families received 51.2 per cent of services, Protestant, 36.8 per cent; Jewish, 1.4 per cent, and Catholic and Protestant, 10.4 per cent.

The FSA received $159,663.49 in general receipts from the United Fund and $8,589.57 from the UF for service to blind children.

Pollution of Air Studies Held Up

Dr. Theus N. Armistead, chairman of the Louisiana Air Pollution Control Commission, said Thursday that a $33,448 grant from the Public Health Service in Washington will probably eventually be used in the investigation of statewide air pollution.

Armistead emphasized that before any investigative action can be taken, it is necessary for the commission to draft rules and regulations governing pollution of air. He said the commission will start immediately setting up rules, however, they must be submitted to "red tape" which will probably hold up action for a while.

Armistead said the rules will probably be voted on at this commission's meeting in March. Upon final approval, he said the grant will probably be used to employ a chemist, an engineer, and an attorney to supplement the staff of the Department of Public Health Engineers, State Board of Health.

Police Manual Is Distributed

Distribution of 1,200 copies of the police department's new procedural manual will be completed within a week.

The department, it was made known Wednesday, began to make them available to all police officers, cadets and civilian personnel assigned to the department.

The manual was edited and reprinted from 12 mimeographed booklets.

The new manual has 390 relatively small pages in a loose-leaf binding.

Additional information can be included and obsolete information will be deleted, said police information officer Lt. Marvin Leonard.

The 12 booklets were a complete overhaul of the original small manual written in 1932.

Information in the manual will be used in civil service exams for departmental promotions, Leonard said.

Rules in the black-covered manual, said Supt. Joseph Giarrusso, "affect the everyday lives of every citizen in our community."

Denture Invention

Replaces messy powders, oozing pastes, reliners

The nearest thing to having your own teeth is possible by an artificial membrane invented by chemists. This membrane connects dentures to gums and mouth surfaces just as living tissue firmly binds natural teeth. Now many can eat, speak and laugh with little worry of dentures dropping.

FIXODENT elastic membrane absorbs the shock of biting and chewing—protects gums from bruising. You bite harder—eat faster, without pain. You can enjoy hard-to-chew foods like steak, apples, corn-on-cob.

FIXODENT helps you speak more clearly, be more at ease.

The special pencil-point dispenser permits you to spot FIXODENT with precision—no oozing over. FIXODENT usually lasts round-the-clock, resists hot drinks, alcoholic beverages. Get FIXODENT at all drug counters. When mouth tissues change, see your dentist.

AMEDEE URGES HEYD TO RESIGN

Attacks Parish Prison Administration

Earle J. Amedee, president of the New Orleans Voter Association, has called for the "immediate resignation of Criminal Sheriff Louis A. Heyd Sr., and his staff."

Amedee spoke Wednesday afternoon at a press conference at the Claver Bldg., 1821 Orleans, and charged the Orleans Parish Prison administration with blatant racial bias and "shocking incompetence."

He also requested that District Attorney Jim Garrison file a petition for an open hearing regarding what Amedee alleged was "gross malfeasance" of Heyd and his administration.

The charges from Amedee followed the death Saturday of Negro prisoner Marshall Scott Jr., 43, of 3408 Feliciana.

Investigations into the death of Scott have thus far resulted in the dismissal of one deputy criminal sheriff and demotions and suspensions of two others.

Scott died of pneumonia after he was placed in solitary confinement while delirious with high fever. The deputy thought the man to be insane, according to A. J. Falkenstein, administrative assistant to Heyd.
