NOTED ORCHESTRA TO GIVE CONCERTS

Symphony Association Here Makes Arrangements for Next Season.

The New Orleans Symphony Association will bring both the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra and the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra to New Orleans next season, it was announced yesterday.

The Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra, which will bring its full quota of eighty-five men under the direction of Henri Verbrugghen, the famous Belgian conductor, will give a series of concerts Friday, February 27, and Saturday, February 28. The series will consist of two night performances and a children's concert.

The St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, under the baton of Rudolph Grand will be heard in a similar series late in March.

The programs, soloists and other details of the two orchestras will be worked out at a meeting to be held by a committee of women at the residence of Mrs. Frank Soule, Tuesday afternoon.

The New Orleans Symphony Association, composed of more than 200 women workers, headed by A. D. Jones, president, has been working for the past two years to secure a symphony orchestra for
