Man's death in Bossier City Jail under investigation

BOSSIER CITY, La. -- Bossier City police are looking into the death of a man who was found dead in the Bossier City Jail Tuesday.

Public information officer Louis Johnson confirmed the death Wednesday to KTBS. No other details were immediately available as the investigation is ongoing, he said.

A friend of the man identified him as Antonio Saxton. She said the family was told Saxton died by hanging himself.

Saxton had been in jail less than 24 hours, according to his friend.
