Bossier City Jail

620 BENTON ROAD, BOSSIER CITY, LOUISIANA 71111

ABOUT

The jail primarily incarcerates people charged with or convicted of city ordinance violations.
It is also a holding place for felonious incarcerated people awaiting transfer to the Bossier Parish Jail.

CAPACITY

The Vera Institute reports that the jail has up to 70 beds; though, the Jail Exchange reports that the jail maintains an average of eighty-four (84) incarcerated people on any given day.
The jail houses both men and women in separate housing units. The units provide secure cells with basic bedding and sanitation facilities and three meals a day.

DEATHS IN CUSTODY

In the last ten years, 2015-2025, Bossier City Jail suggests a trend of relative safety from deaths in custody or lack of reporting.
There have been two reported deaths in 2021 and 2023. Notably, the 2021 death was not in the facility, yet classified as an in-custody death since the Bossier Police arrested Mr. Hill at the scene of the alleged crime.
